

I am very happy with Indiana's Telephone Privacy Act. It has substantially cut down on nuisance calls each day, and I feel that the Feds should not pass anything less restrictive than Indiana's law, if they have to pass anything at all.